TRADES DAY.

Wednesday afternoon, October 14,
Trades Day again brought a large crowd of trade people to the College Square in Hondo, and at three o'clock, after a few barbs of wit directed at local merchants on the part of the master of ceremonies, Prof. W.
N. Saathoff, the drawing took place.
Seven people remained the winners
by Hondo's custom of Trades Day;
three big prizes and four donations
by local business men were the premiums awarded.

Overton Schmidt of Biry was the lucky winner of the cow; Ben Balzen of Tarpley won the hog and Raymond Leinweber of Hondo the pen of chickens.

The four prizes offered by the merchants were won as follows:

Thermos jug by Miss Evelyn Burger of Tarpley; bucket of coffee by Frank Lutz of near D'Hanis; box of tobacco by Stanley Mumme of Hondo; and a meat ticket by Fritz Senne of near Yancy.

It was unusual that the premiums were distributed over a wide territory covering the north, the south, the east and the west of Medina County.
There were visitors trading here even from surrounding counties. Save all your tickets; you may be the lucky winner next time, November 11th.

glad to learn that he had sufficiently recovered from his recent severe operation to be brought home last Monday. He stood the trip well and is still on the road towards recovery,
but he needs a lot of rest and quiet to make him a well man again.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK.

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Oklahoma.

S. G. GOLDTHWAITE, PUBLISHER OF THE BOONE (IOWA)
NEWS-REPUBLICAN, SAYS:

There is a great deal of trade that goes away from the home market through carelessness or thoughtlessness. Some of it goes out of town through the mistaken thought of independence. Some trade goes out of town on account of spite.

The present business condition has been responsible for one good thing at least. People are thinking more seriously of that
"buy at home" argument in order to help the times for themselves.
It has been brought to our reasoning power more forcibly than ever before that money spent at home is likely to come back to us.

We presume that 20 per cent of the trade is a low estimate of that which finds its way out of the home market. Add 20 per cent to the present gross sales of the merchants and they would think that good times had come back. People are beginning to realize this more strongly than ever before.

SHOW US A TOWN WHERE THE PEOPLE ARE LOYAL
TO THEIR MERCHANTS AND WE WILL SHOW YOU A TOWN
WHICH IS HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS. BUY HOME SOLD
ARTICLES AND STATE MADE PRODUCTS IS A SLOGAN THAT IS GROWING STRONGER IN THE PRESENT TIMES. IT IS RESPONSIBLE FOR A NEW SORT OF A BOOTSTRAP PROSPER-ITY. IT IS DUE NOT MERELY TO A DESIRE FOR SELF HELP
BUT ALSO TO A QUICKENED CONSCIENCE, SUPERINDUCED
BY SLACK TIMES, THAT MAYBE IT IS A DUTY TO KEEP MONEY IN CIRCULATION IN THE HOME TOWN.

P. T. A. MEETING.

The Parent-Teachers Association met in regular session in the High School auditorium Monday at 4 P. M.
There was a large crowd in attendance, including several new members and several visitors.

The program was unusually interesting. Miss Minnie Margaret Howard gave two piano numbers which were enthusiastically received.

Rev. R. W. Merrill talked on "The Spiritual Culture of the Young."
His message was full of inspiration to every mother and was an appeal to raise the ideal of the home, since on the home is based the welfare of the State, the Nation and the Church.
He said "We live too far away from our children," and he urged a more comradely and friendlier relationship between parents and children.

Two songs, Pickaninny Lullaby and "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain," by Misses Margaret Dillon and Thelma and Mary Ruth Wilson, accompanied on the piano by Miss Frances Finger, were enjoyed by everyone.

Mrs. G. W. Monkhouse gave an interesting talk on the work done by the Parent-Teacher Association when she was president.

The third grade had the largest number of mothers present, so they again won the book presented by the hostesses of the afternoon.

The P. T. A. requests that school children buy pencils at the school house.

Saturday, October 16, at 2:30 P.
M. the Medina County Council meets at Biry. Members are invited to attend.

Delicious refreshments of sandwiches, treasure wafers, and tea
were served by Mrs. L. E. Kollman Jr., and assistant hostesses.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS COURT

The County Commissioners Court convened at the Courthouse October 12, 1931, for the regular October
Term, 1931, with all members present.

Mr. F. L. Bendele appeared before the court and asked for pay for gravel for road purposes, taken from his land in the Hondo Creek below the Biry bridge. He agreed to sell to the county for the sum of $15.00 all the gravel needed by the county for a period of five years beginning October 1, 1931. The county accepted the proposition and paid said sum of $15.00 in cash to said F. L. Bendele.

It was ordered that Santiago
Pompa be paid 75 cents per day for nine days for care and support of Jesus Chapa, pauper indigent.

Application of Mr. Kirby for county aid was denied by the court.

After the bills were approved the court recessed until 10 A. M. on Wednesday, October 14, 1931.

6 TO 60.

Everybody from 6 to 60 years of age will be admitted to the Colonial Theatre MONDAY NIGHT ONLY for the "measly" sum of 15 cents.
Not a bargain for this reason only but they have a really good picture,
"THE CRIMINAL CODE" in which Walter Huston and Phillips Holmes are starred. Remember, ONLY 15c to see a great picture.

HONORED WITH TEA.

A large affair of Saturday was the tea given from three to five by Mrs. Alice Reinhart assisted by her mother, Mrs. Mary Rothe, and sisters, Mrs. Felix Batot, Mrs. W. O. Rothe,
and Mrs. H. C. Rothe of San Antonio, to honor Mrs. Clinton Herbert Rothe,
a summer bride, of Phoenix, Arizona.

The rooms of the lovely country home of Mrs. Reinhart, which gave the setting for the affair, were adorned with baskets and vases of pink Regina Corona. In the dining room the refreshment table, laid with a lace cloth, was centered with a bowl of the chosen flower, and banking the fireplace and mantle were baskets of the Queen's Crown.

Receiving the guests in the reception hall were the hostess, Mrs. Rein-hart, the honoree, Mrs. Clinton Herbert Rothe, Mrs. Felix Batot and Mrs.
H. C. Rothe of San Antonio. The callers were greeted in the living room by Mrs. Mary Rothe, Mrs. W.
O. Rothe and Mrs. T. B. Knopp.

In the dining room Mrs. O. H. Miller presided over the tea service and
Mrs. Arthur Rothe served the cake.
Mrs. Maurice Finger, and Misses Her-mina Nester, Helen Ann Miller and Laurinda Rothe assisted in serving the tea dainties.

Miss Ethel Rothe, violinist, Miss
Sarah Rothe, vocalist, and Miss Josie Rothe, pianist, rendered delightful musical numbers during the hours of receiving.

The bride's book, presided over by Misses Verena Finger and Annette Rothe, was kept on a lace covered table on the front veranda.

About 100 guests called during the afternoon.

MEDINA COUNTY BOY GOES TO AFRICA.

Horace Fohn, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Jacob Fohn of near Hondo, sailed last week from Tampa, Florida on the S. S. Campgaw for a four months voyage to Africa. Horace, who is only twenty years old goes in the capacity of radio engineer. This is his second long voyage to a foreign country as he spent two years on the S. S. Gulf Queen in South American waters, and just recently spent a short vacation with his parents before sailing on his second adventure.

HOW IT HAPPENS FREE.

At Saturday's Matinee at the Colonial Theatre a bottle of soda water will be served to all children under 12 years of age. The admission will be 10 cents and the soda water FREE fresh from the Hondo Bottling Co.

Castroville Commemorates

MONUMENT TO PIONEERS OF '44 UNVEILED ON SEPTEMBER SQUARE SUNDAY.

Sunday was a memorable day in Castroville—the occasion being the unveiling of a monument to commemorate the founding of the settlement at Castroville on September 8, 1844, and the blessing of the corner stone of St. Louis Catholic church September 12, 1844, by the then Bishop J.
M. Odin.

The events of the day were begun with a Field Mass and sermon by the Rev. Father Holweg under the spreading branches of an ancient pecan tree on the banks of the Medina.

Following the Mass the vast throng, led by the Knights of Columbus band proceeded to September Square where the dedicatory exercises were held. County Judge R. J.

Noonan presided as master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers.
The dedicatory address was delivered by Mr. Ben Schwegmann who, on behalf of the Order of Alhambra, presented the monument to the people of Castroville after which the beautiful stone was unveiled. Judge H.
E. Haass in a speech of acceptance thanked the donors and pledged the people of Castroville to ever cherish and preserve the memento to the courage and perseverance of the fathers of their village.

The monument is a massive piece of pink Burnett granite, is ornamented with a bronze profile of Henry Castro's face, and suitably engraved with data commemorative of the event it is designed to celebrate.
Credit for initiating the plan of perpetuating in this manner the history of the founding of the settlement is due to Mr. Joseph Courand who interested the Order of Alhambra in the undertaking and who, with the assistance of Judge H. E. Haass, assembled the historical data for the inscription.

After the formal dedication services, a delicious barbecue dinner was served at Wernette's Garden and the day was spent in various social diversions, all vying with each other in doing honor to the old timers who were present. Brief addresses were made during the afternoon by Judge
L. J. Brucks, Prof. W. N. Saathoff and perhaps others.

Following is the address by Judge
Haass and the dedicatory poem written by Mrs. J. L. Mechler:

Rev. Fathers, Members of the Order of Alhambra, Descendants of Castro's Colonists, Ladies and Gentlemen:

On Sept. 13th, 1894, 37 years ago, this speaker addressed the large crowd that had then assembled, on this same place, September Square, to celebrate the 50th or semi-centennial foundation and settlement of Castroville. We had at that time with us, three of the first original settlers of Castroville, who came with the colonizer, Henry Castro, from San Antonio to the Medina River and helped found the Town of Castro-ville; they were F. Joseph Haby, Nicolaus Haby and Jacob Haby, Sr., then reported as the sole and only survivors of the Sept. 3rd, 1844 founders, and whose names are now inscribed on this Monument. They have since been gathered to their fathers.

I was glad to be able and in a position to assist your worthy Committee represented by our former fellow townsman, Mr. Joseph Courand as Chairman from my vast storehouse of historical material to get up a true and correct list of the names of the Original Settlers who founded Castroville, Sept. 3rd, 1844, and assisted and were present at the laying of the corner stone of the first Catholic Church between San Antonio and the Rio Grande River on September 12th, 1844, 87 years ago, and whose names are inscribed on this monument.

It will not be amiss to read to you a copy of perhaps the first letter sent out of Castroville by Henry Castro as follows:

"Castroville, on the Medina, 25 miles West of San Antonio de Bexar,
September 15th, 1844.

To the Hon. Anson Jones, Secretary of State of the Republic of Texas.

Sir: After having completed my numerous, arduous and expensive preparations, I quitted San Antonio on the 1st inst. preceded by a numerous detachment of Emigrants, to form my first settlement on the banks of the Medina.

Within 24 hours of our arrival, which took place on the 2nd; each person was in occupation of a comfortable cabin formed of branches,
on the edge of the river.

On the 3rd, the carpenters set to work to construct with planks, which I had brought with me for that purpose, a storehouse, two rooms and a large shed to shelter the people, all of which were completed by the 4th.

On the 4th, my Mexican laborers assisted by the majority of the Emigrants commenced making Adobas, (sun dried bricks) intended for the houses, the dimensions of which will be 30 feet by 16.

On the 9th, a small shed was raised as a shelter for the guard.

On the 10th, a large shed 100 feet by 12 feet thatched with rushes, and capable of sheltering all the people in case of rain, was commenced and completed on the 14th.

On the 10th, a small garden was laid out and enclosed and on the 14th, it was dug and sown with various vegetables.

This commencement is the successful result of the course I was induced to pursue, that of conveying to the Colony at my own expense, those of the Emigrants disposed to follow me; of furnishing them with provisions during the construction of the houses, as also of providing the means of existence for those of them who may be without resources till next crop and of lending them oxen, ploughs and seeds.

Messrs. Dr. Geo. Cupples and Charles de Montel leave for San Antonio to bring Bishop Odin. Arrival of Bishop Odin and Abbe Oge, also Captain Hays and Chevalier.

Sept. 11th, Departure of Captain Hays and Chevalier. Today my table was set on the banks of the Medina, under the foliage of the Pecan and Walnut, besides my customary guests
we had Bishop Odin and Rev. Oge whom I did my best to please. Among the novelties we had for our fare, we had several bottles of wine made from the native mustang grape by one of the Colonists from the Rhenish provinces. Without doubt it was the first wine manufactured on the Medina, and it was considered very fair.

Sept. 12th. On this day we proceeded to the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the Church under the invocation of Saint Louis by the Rev. Bishop Odin accompanied by his grand vicar Abbe Oge and followed by all the little Colony. On the 12th, also took place the Election of two Justices of the Peace and a Constable, agreeably to the Instructions of the Chief Justice of Bexar County.
I acted as president of said Election.
Messrs. Louis Huth and G. S. Bourgeois were elected Justices, and Louis Haass, Constable. Discharges of musketry, bonfires built and the usual libations ended this well occupied day. Regular hunters paid by me furnished the Settlers with as much game and venison as they can consume.

Sept. 13th. I, Hy. Castro, with Louis Haass and Dr. Geo. Cupples and L. Oge accompanied the Rt. Rev.
Bishop J. M. Odin to San Antonio.

Mr. John James, Deputy Surveyor, of Bexar County, aided by efficient assistants has been actively engaged since the 4th, in laying out the lots, in which great progress has been made.

Calculating from the progress already made, I have every reason to believe that the houses will be completed by the end of October. New arrivals take place every day and even those who appeared least disposed to follow me, are bestirring themselves, so that I may reckon on the majority of the 700 persons I have brought into the country.
These with the Emigrants who were to sail on the 1st inst. and who will be followed by others at regular intervals until March next, will form within six months a populous settlement, in the country which offers more advantages than any other in the world.

Such is my situation after 14 days work.

With great regards,
Yr. Obedt. Servant
Hy. Castro.

This speaker was selected to accept this beautiful monument and memorial in behalf of the people of Castro-ville and the descendants of those noble and heroic pioneers, the Castro Colonists, and dedicate it to their memory.

I, now in the name of the people of Castroville and those here assembled, accept this monument and memorial from the generous donors, the Order of Alhambra, Knights of Columbia, Bexar Caravan No. 56, of San Antonio, Texas, and express to them the sincere thanks of all present and now I request and enjoin on every man, woman and child in Castroville, and on every good citizen in Medina County, to forever keep this Monument and Memorial in high regard and esteem and protect it from vandal hands and the vicious and law-

QUIHI NOTES.

"The Lord loveth judgment, and forsaketh not His saints; they are preserved forever; but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off. Ps. 37, 28.

The time for the opening of the Sunday school and the forenoon service have been changed. The Sunday school and Bible class begin from now on at 9:30 and the forenoon service at 10:30 A. M. All are always cordially welcome at all services in this church.

Saturday night, Oct. 17th, a community social will be given at the parish hall and on the church lawn of Bethlehem Lutheran church. Among the entertaining features of this social will be a fishing pond, refreshment stand, a splendid program of select musical and literary numbers, etc. A cordial invitation to come to this social with your families, friends and neighbors is extended to all. The program will begin at 7:30 P. M. Here is a good opportunity to meet your friends and neighbors in social intercourse.

No night service will be held Sunday night in Bethlehem Lutheran church in order to afford the pastor and members an opportunity to attend the Mission rally in St. Paul's Lutheran church of Hondo.

The annual mission services held last Sunday at Bethlehem Lutheran church were very interesting and were largely attended by appreciative audiences from the Quihi and adjacent communities. The speakers of the day were the Revs. K. Konzack of Castroville, E. Knaak of San Antonio and W. Leibfarth of Hondo. The several services were greatly beautified by choice selections by the Quihi church choir and Male Chorus.

"More genuine satisfaction than any car I ever owned"

THE FORD is good-looking. It is safe. Comfortable. Speedy. Reliable. Long-lived. Economical. Everything a good car should be.

There is, too, an added something about it that brings enthusiastic comments from every one who has ever driven a Ford . . . the joy it puts in motoring.

"I have been a car owner continuously for nearly 20 years," writes a motorist connected with a leading university. "During this period I have bought eleven new automobiles. Eight of the eleven were in the middle-price field, one cost three thousand dollars, and the last is a Ford I purchased thirteen months ago.

"In the light of this experience I can say in all sincerity that I have derived more genuine satisfaction from the Ford than any car I ever owned. In saying this, I am thinking in terms of comfort, safety, driving pleasure, ease of control and economy. My next car will also be a Ford because it will give me what I want at a price I can afford to pay."

When you get behind the wheel of the Ford and drive it yourself you will know it is a truly remarkable car at a low price. You will like it when you first buy it. You will become more and more enthusiastic the longer you drive it.

After thousands of miles of driving you will say "it's a great car." Its economy will save you many dollars.

HONDO, TEXAS, OCT. 16, 1931

TEXAS AND TEXANS.
By
Will H. Mayes
"All Texans for All Texas"

Texas' Building Program.

All indications are that, beginning with October 1, Texas has entered upon the largest building program in its history. A survey made by a prominent finance corporation estimates Texas construction for the period at $52,000,000, of which $17,000,000 is to be public works and utilities, $19,000,000 non-residential, and $16,000,000 residential. The estimates for private construction may be approximately correct, but it does not take a careful survey to see that the next six months' construction of State and county roads and bridges, public buildings, utility and irrigation plants, and waterways improvements alone will exceed the total estimate for Texas construction for the period. In all probability the Texas building program will reach a total of nearly $100,000,000 in the next six months.

Irrigation Land Values.

Recent sales of small tracts of land under irrigation, or in irrigation districts, indicate that such lands have not fallen in value, but are bringing from $300.00 to $750.00 an acre, according to character of soil and location—with reference to market, together with the kind and market value of fruits or vegetables that may be grown upon the tracts. While most parts of Texas have an annual rainfall sufficient to mature standard farm crops, the distribution of moisture is such that dry land farming is so uncertain that growers who prefer smaller acreage with fairly fixed yields seem willing to pay the higher prices for irrigable lands. The successful dry land farmers are those who are able to withstand occasional crop failures and figure profits over periods of several years rather than for one year at a time.

State's Oil Resources.

In passing a bill authorizing the State to lease or drill for oil in river beds in proven oil districts, the legislature has taken a forward step that should have started years ago. To conserve its oil Texas will have to go into the oil business. Had proper measures been taken years ago Texas could be supporting its State government without levying any taxes. The river-bed experiment proves all its proponents claim for it and saves the State from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000, future legislatures will likely make a close study of methods of conserving the oil on state-owned lands not already contracted to operating oil companies.

Texas Census Figures.

Texas had a population of 5,824,715 when the census was taken in 1930. To call it 6,000,000 will be accurate enough. Of the entire population, 73.5 per cent is white—non-counting Mexicans as white, as was done in the census of 1920. More than one-fourth of the foreign-born population is German. Forty-one per cent of the people live in towns and cities of over 2,500 population. There are 2,207,118 workers in gainful occupations, of whom 423,018 are women. The school attendance is 88.7 of the total enrollment. Something more than one-third of the workers are engaged in farming and related occupations.

Eagle Pass Irrigation.

Work is being pushed rapidly on the great $6,600,000 power and light and irrigation project near Eagle Pass. It is about 50 per cent completed. The land to be irrigated comprises about 67,000 acres and the work on the main canal is about 85 per cent done. When completed next year the area adjacent to Eagle Pass will be one of the largest and most fertile districts of the State.

Texas State Fair.

Preparations for the Texas State Fair indicate that exhibits will be as complete as those of any previous year if they do not excel former displays. As heretofore, everything is being done to make the fair the most successful in the United States and to make it reflect accurately the real progress of the State. All Texans are proud of the State Fair and have a right to be.

Intracoastal Canal.

In calling the 27th annual convention of the Intracoastal Canal Association to be held at Corpus Christi November 6-7, C. S. E. Holland, the president, who has worked incessantly at the project from the beginning, says that the final consummation of the canal from the Mississippi to the Rio Grande are nearing completion and that construction of the nine-foot waterway 100 feet wide from New Orleans to the Sabine district of Texas will be completed in two years, and to the Galveston-Houston district in three years. Mr. Holland's success in heading this work over a period of more than a quarter of a century places him among the foremost of Texas build-

Legislators Quit.

The Texas legislator who said that people are not anxious to have us go home, but are anxious to have us quit," probably was right about it. A session of the legislature creates a spirit of distrustfulness with many people. Besides this, it is expensive, costing from $3,000 to $5,000 a day, and almost invariably piling up items of cost for committee work to be done after the session. The apparent disposition of both branches of the legislature to increase the expense of legislative sessions is not consistent with the expressed desire of legislators to bring about an economical administration of State Government. It is as if to say, "Every branch of Government except ours must spend less, but we expect to spend more." Texas taxpayers are glad that the legislature has adjourned.

Why Pity Mexico?

Those who are inclined to regard Mexican government as a failure will be surprised to read that on completion of the Matamoros-Mazatlan highway, the secretary of communications of Mexico, in a public address, stated that the economic condition of Mexico is fortunate when compared with that of other countries. The country, like Texas, has an abundant supply of food supplies and is finding employment for the thousands who are returning from this country, attracted home by prospects of employment.

Texas Centennial Spirit.

Although there has been no recent official activity in regard to holding a Texas Centennial celebration in 1936, the people of the State appear to lack only official leadership to be induced to center their efforts for a suitable commemorative event. A number of cities and counties are going ahead with local celebrations. Old shrines, notably the San Jose Mission near San Antonio, are being restored, historic plays and pageants are being given, memorials are being erected, relics of historic days are being assembled, roads are being built to places of historic interest, reverence for old places is being kindled. The Centennial spirit is in the air in Texas, waiting for suitable direction and management. Every day of delay now will result in loss of opportunities to be in readiness for a creditable celebration in 1936.

Great State Park.

The building of the first section of the Davis Mountains State Park Highway, recently ordered by the Highway Commission, is the first definite step toward the actual creation of a Texas State park worthy of the name. The State owns 2,500 acres of park sites along the proposed highway, but for practical park purposes there is more than 500 square miles within the area encompassed by the 75 mile park highway, which will traverse a section most of which is more than a mile above sea level and winds among peaks higher than any in the entire Appalachian system.

Texas Granite.

The use of Texas granite in construction of public buildings erected by the Federal Government in Texas, which appears to be the present policy will give employment to many granite workers and increase Texas intrastate shipments. With granite stone, concrete and timber so abundant in the State there is no good reason why Texas buildings should not be constructed almost exclusively of Texas products.

FARM LOANS

The Hondo National Farm Loan Association, H. E. Haass, Sec.-Treas. Hondo, Texas, representing 260 borrowers with $1,025,280.00 borrowed is prepared to make farm loans anywhere in Medina County under the Federal Farm Loan Act at 5 per cent interest and 1 per cent 36 year amortization repayment plan. Sixty two thousand Texas farmers have taken advantage of this system of borrowing over one hundred eighty one million dollars. Why not you? Former restrictions have been taken off and you may borrow for any purpose provided for in the Act, a farmer only.

Save While Young

The poorhouse is full of people, today. Who one time were young, were happy and gay. How little they thought they ever would feel the pinch and heart aches of poverty's seal. For the ups and downs and failures that came. These people may think they know who's to blame; Yet one thing is sure: had they but saved more, A much smaller house would do for the poor. The HONDO STATE BANK has found failures are few if you save while young and faithful work do.

Last Friday afternoon the members of the New Fountain Missionary Society met in the home of Mrs. Theo. Wiemers for a Book Review on "Challenge of Change". The meeting opened by singing "What a Friend We have in Jesus", followed by a prayer by Mrs. F. Stiegler; and the Scripture Lesson by Mrs. L. H. Heyen. Mrs. E. W. Deckert gave a splendid review of the book, "Challenge of Change" by John Milton Morre. The need of cooperation in Home Mission work is urged by the author. Members of the Missionary Society were highly pleased with the study.

A very interesting business session followed during which Mrs. F. Stiegler reported a sunshine birthday box had been sent to Mrs. Pauline Saathoff by the Missionary Society. Mrs. Saathoff will be remembered by many as an inviolate for the past years. We hope this gift box brought a little cheer to her.

A social hour followed during which the hostess served delicious sandwiches, cake, and iced tea to twelve members and several guests. Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. William Wiemers.

Hondo was well represented at the unveiling ceremonies at Castrovilla last Sunday, and several of her citizens took prominent parts in the program. Many Hondo people trace their ancestry back to the early settlers of Castrovilla, and it was fitting that they take a lively interest in the erection of a permanent memorial in honor of the memory of those worthy sires.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH. MISSION RALLY.

"The cause is Thine, Lord Jesus Christ,

The cause for which we pray.
And since it is of Thy design
It cannot pass away."

A young lady said to a friend: "I cannot get interested in missions." "No," replied the friend, "you can hardly expect to. It is just like getting interested in a bank. You have to put something into it first. And the more you put into missions, of time and money and prayer, the more the interest will grow."

It is for every Christian to "invest" something in this work, which is equal to none other upon the face of this earth. And just now, in a time when we need God and His promises will be fulfilled if we think of the needs of others, "Give, and it shall be given unto you."

We invite your presence at our mission rally services, which will be held on Sunday, October 18, as follows:

Morning service in German at 10:30, Prof. Adolph Streng of Texas Lutheran College, Seguin, will fill the pulpit.

Evening program presented by the Sunday school children. Parents and friends will learn a great deal from the spirit of this service. Come and give your support to our children. This program begins at 3 P. M.

The night service will consist of a program by the Luther League. Several interesting numbers will be rendered. The main speaker is Professor Gerhard Kuhlmann of Texas Lutheran College, Seguin. The program will begin at 7:30.

The choir will embellish all services with special music of an inspirational character. We are looking forward to seeing a very good attendance. Will you be there?

Sunday school will be held at the usual time next Sunday, October 18, namely at 9:15. Professor Streng will address the Sunday school children on missions.

On Sunday, October 25, at 3 P. M. an important meeting of the men from the various congregations in the vicinity of Hondo will be held at our church. A highly important matter connected with our church work will be discussed at this gathering. The men of our congregation are expected to be present if possible.

Regular instruction of the catechetical class will be held Saturday morning from 8:30 until 11:30.

The Sunday school teacher's meeting, which was postponed this week, will be held next Friday, October 23, at 7:30 P. M.

C. W. Roberts was taken ill last week and his condition occasioned his family and friends considerable worry. On advice of his family physician, he was taken to San Antonio Friday for treatment by specialists and for a period of rest and change. Latest reports are that he is progressing favorably. His friends wish him an early recovery.

The editor of this paper was pleased to have a call from his former associate and co-worker in the State Department of Agriculture, Mr. J. W. Alford, one day the first of the week. Mr. Alford had been down in the Winter Garden District on business and called while enroute back to Austin. Mr. Alford has been connected with the market division of the State Department of agriculture for a number of years.

JONES RETURNS TO BADGERS

Joy reigned in the Badgers camp last week when it was found that Glyn Jones, leading scorer of the team for two years, would be back to play with the team again this year. For some time it was thought that Glyn would not be in Hondo this season, but it is now ascertained that he will be ready to put fear in the hearts of Badger opponents once more.

At a meeting, Monday night the names of several new players who wish to join the Badgers, were turned in and will be voted upon for acceptance at the next regular meeting.

The Badgers are eagerly waiting for cool weather so that they can start practice.

Plans for financing the team and the purchase of a new basketball were discussed. It was decided that the Badgers sponsor a barbecue and wolf hunt as soon as weather conditions are favorable.

TAKES PART IN NEWGIRL-OLDGIRL WEDDING.

Hondo, October 13, 1931.—The bridesmaids for the Newgirl-Oldgirl wedding at Baylor College are chosen because of their beauty and Hondo had a representative in this group, Miss Elizabeth Holloway was the matron of honor to the bride, Miss Ethel Lee Riley, San Antonio. The bridegroom was Miss Elizabeth Scott, Santa Rosa, president of the junior class.

A setting of the time of Louis XIV was arranged by the juniors who take this method annually of cementing their friendships with their little sisters, the freshmen. The motif and the name of the bride are closely guarded and less than 20 persons knew them until the ceremony began.

Miss Holloway, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Holloway was recently elected treasurer of the freshman class.

THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. L. J. Brucks was hostess of an informal bridge, Thursday afternoon of last week, naming as guests the members of the Thursday Bridge Club. Three tables of bridge were placed on the east veranda.

Prizes were bridge motifs. Mrs. R. J. Noonan won high score and Mrs. T. B. Knopp low.

The hostess, assisted by her daughters, served a delectable salad course and iced tea.

Those present were Mesdames T. B. Knopp, O. B. Taylor, R. J. Noonan, O. H. Miller, Earl Starnes, Horace Bradley, L. E. Heath, E. J. Meyer, J. M. Finger, Mrs. Brucks and Misses Mary Ruth Cameron, Lillian and Anna Leah Brucks.

T. E. L. CLASS MEETS.

The T. E. L. Class of the First Baptist church met in its regular business meeting Tuesday afternoon at the beautiful home of Mrs. Elsie Warden.

After discussing many important things pertaining to class work a fine social hour was spent during which lovely refreshments were served to 21 visitors and members. Reporter.

CAPT. BILL, ONE OF THE STEADY BOYS

LET HOGS HARVEST PART OF CORN.

By L. A. Hawkins, Agricultural Extension Department, International Harvester Company.

Let the hogs harvest part of the corn. There is no place where a hog will make more gain from a bushel of corn than right in the cornfield harvesting it himself. It costs almost as much to harvest a crop as it does to grow it, and the savings in labor, to say nothing of the gain per bushel, is a great item.

Pigs of about 100 pounds weight will make the best use of the cornfield. When they have reached that weight and the corn is ready they can be turned in after getting on "full feed." They can be brought to full feed gradually and in the course of 10 days or two weeks be ready to go into the corn. Get them accustomed to the corn by first cutting some corn, stalks and all, and throwing it to them on pasture, gradually increasing the feed.

It is well to fence off part of the cornfield and hog it off before the corn is ripe, then set the fence over, taking in another plot, and so on until the hogs are finished. This prevents the pigs from tearing down the corn faster than they clean it up. A temporary fence can be built through the cornfield by using 26-inch woven wire fence. Cut off each alternate hill of corn at about three feet high in the row where the fence should be, unroll the wire along this row, set the wire up along the row of corn, setting it over the hills that are cut off. This places the fence on one side of one hill in the row and on the opposite side of the next hill, weaving it, so to speak.

Now break over the top of the cut stalks and tuck them into the mesh of the fence. This holds the fence in place and the hogs will not get out, providing they have all they want to eat inside. It doesn't take much fencing to hold pigs if they have enough to eat.

Pigs do not make economical gains on corn alone. They must have protein feed also. An ideal combination for fattening hogs is a cornfield and an alfalfa field, so the hogs can have their choice—corn or alfalfa. Corn and soy beans are also good. The corn-soy bean combination is being provided for pigs more each year by hog feeders where soy beans do well, by planting corn and beans together. Corn and sweet clover make a good combination too.

If no legume feed is available the hogs should have tankage. There is no better way to feed tankage to hogs in the cornfield than to place it in self-feeders and allow the hogs access to it. When there is an abundance of alfalfa, clover, beans or legume pasture, it is doubtful whether in the long run it pays to feed additional protein in the form of tankage to pigs after they have reached 125 pounds in weight.

When the rainy season comes the hogs can be taken out of the cornfield until it dries off a bit. Provision should be made for this to prevent the hogs from muddying so much corn.

Hogging down corn is a twentieth century practice and should be made use of more than it is.

After the fattened hogs are out of the cornfield, turn the sows and little pigs in and let them gather up the crumbs.

WHAT ARE CALORIES?

Have you ever read an article on dieting in which the author suggested a certain number of calories for each meal? If so, do you really understand what calories are?

In determining how much we shall eat, after balancing the diet so that it contains all the indispensable elements in sufficient amounts, we calculate the amount of heat which the food will give when it is burned in the body. The heat is measured in terms of calories or heat units.

When choosing foods we think of the calories rather than of the pounds or quarts consumed. To secure one hundred calories one would have to eat a pound of tomatoes or a half pound of carrots, but the same hundred calories could be secured by nibbling less than an ounce of candy. Sugar is a highly concentrated energy food particularly desirable during cold weather. The tiny tot who toddles off to school with a few sweets added to the plainer fare in his lunch box, has a meal that will enable him to stand a cold walk home much better than some of his playmates whose lunches may be heavier and bulkier but deficient in calories.

One way to make vacation less tedious to children, with their constant plea of "What can I do now, mother?" is to assume that they will help with some of the work, and then teach them how to do it. Any child of school age is perfectly able to help with such ordinary tasks as sweeping, dusting, running the vacuum cleaner, washing dishes, making beds, and even some of the cooking. Little girls actually like to wash their own socks and hankies, and boys like the responsibility of some definite jobs, particularly those in which tools are used. It takes more time at first to teach the children how to do these tasks than to do them yourself, but after a while, they manage nicely. Let their reward be a number of periods in which you enter into their play with them—have a picnic, or invite some of their friends in for games, or get up a little play. Remember that rewards come as the result of accomplishment and are not stressed a great deal in advance. Too much talking about rewards puts them in a class with bribes.

EDUCATIONAL CONTEST. $1,500 IN PRIZES.

Dallas, October 1, 1931.—As the oldest existing business institution in Texas, with its origin going back to the days of the Lone Star Republic, The Dallas Mornning News is featuring, in connection with its EIGHTH ANNUAL BARGAIN RATE SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN, a TEXAS QUESTION BOX CONTEST which is designed to test the knowledge of entrants in State history, geography, government and economics.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED DOLLARS in cash prizes will be distributed as follows: First prize, $500; second prize, $100; third, fourth and fifth prizes, $50 each; next 100 ranking contestants, $7.50 each. The contest is open to all Texans other than News employees, the only qualification being the return of one bargain rate subscription to The News, either new or renewal. Blanks and full information concerning the contest are obtainable by addressing The News at Dallas.

Representative questions are: 1. How many counties are there in Texas? 2. What is the largest county in Texas? 3 (a) What is the Texas State tree? (b) What is the Texas State flower? (c) What is the Texas State bird? 4. Name two Texans who have served in the President's Cabinet. There are twenty questions in all, and contestants are free to consult textbooks, encyclopedias, the Texas Almanac, local libraries, educators, bankers and others. In short any source of information is legitimate.

Subscriptions are limited to those delivered by mail to Texas addresses. Contestants may send in their own subscriptions or renewals. In case of a tie, a second set of questions will be submitted for answer by the tying contestants, without the necessity of obtaining additional subscription, and the winner determined accordingly.

Having seemingly exhausted every other source of revenue for the support of government, you now begin to hear talk not of how to reduce expenses but of a sales tax. You had as well get ready to pay that kind of a tax soon.

The season for planting winter small grain is here. Don't be deterred from planting a normal acreage because of the low price. If you have live stock the winter grazing it will afford will make it profitable if nothing more is realized from it.

The only chance the present extra session had of materially helping a distressed agriculture was to reduce the farmer's taxes. In this it signally failed by rejecting every proposal looking to that end. It didn't even "call" the governor's "bluff" at voluntarily reducing his own "munificent" salary!

Those misguided fellow citizens who voted an amendment to the constitution increasing the pay and the working time of the legislators under the plea that it would promote better legislation and eliminate extra sessions of that body must review the results of their handiwork with great pride of achievement!

The advance payment on the soldier bonus went about as far towards relieving the depression as a snowball in extinguishing a forest fire. Europe's debt moratorium seems destined to be equally effective. FARMING still believes that the only way to end the depression is to either entice the money from its "corner" with the bonds wanted or scare it out with an issue of "greenbacks".

The act of a legislature gravely enacting that a farmer may plant only so much of his land in cotton under the pretense of conserving the soil in future years when the real purpose is to advance the price of the present crop and in the hope that it will silence a hysterical clamor and be declared unconstitutional by the courts is one of duplicity and cowardice that makes one doubt the capacity of representative government to survive.

The fruits of inconsistency is seen in the resolutions adopted by a Texas county Commissioners Court in ordering the discontinuance of the County Agent work. Drawing a parallel between the action of the government in promoting increased production through scientific agriculture, reclamation of waste lands, etc., on the one hand and the advice of the government to destroy one-third of a crop already made on the other hand, they decided to quit co-operating until that government gets back to a fixed and definite policy.

The man with a mortgage on his farm will find it hard to keep the interest and taxes paid with prevailing prices for the products of that farm. Creditors can not be expected to forego their interest and the principle when due. States, counties and districts could help by a reduction of taxes in keeping with the slump in prices, but in the case of Texas at least these have been increased five cents on the hundred dollars valuation. That is the help they get from that source! And there is the Federal government—but with the fiasco of the Farm Relief Board why expect anything? Therefore, the problem is an individual one for each farmer, and he must lay his own plans of battle and fight his own fight.

THIS—OR BOLSHEVISM.

If there has ever been a time in the history of this government—founded as it was by its fathers on the theory of self-government—when the people should do some quick and accurate thinking and be slow and cautious in action that time is right now.

The reason why this is true is that the tendency of the times is "hell-bent" in the other direction.

The very essence upon which must exist a free governing state, such as our forefathers sought to establish here in America, is the largest possible freedom of the individual; anything that jeopardizes that individual freedom endangers the safety of the state and is treason to those principles of right which must be the basic support of any organized self-governing social body if it is to stand.

To presume that a people are capable of self-government is to presume that they in the mass are capable of knowing their rights, that knowing their own rights they will seek to attempt to over-ride the rights of another, and will dare always to maintain their own.

This presumption narrows the legitimate functions of government to the maintenance of peace among the people and equity between man and man.

This was the vision Thomas Jefferson had of a self-governing people when he said, "That people is best governed that is least governed."

How far we have drifted from that ideal should give us pause; the accelerated speed with which we are separating ourselves from the ancient landmarks should fill us with alarm.

Failure or refusal on the one hand of trusted public servants to perform their prescribed and sworn duties and usurpation of power and authority unwarranted on the other is burden-

1930 FARM CENSUS.

According to a bulletin recently issued by the Bureau of the Census, showing both State and County Statistics, there was an increase in the number of farms in Texas from 436,033 in 1920 and 465,646 in 1925, to 495,489 in 1930. The total number of farms in Texas includes 120,666 having from 20 to 49 acres, 123,482 from 50 to 99 acres, and 106,866 from 100 to 174 acres. There were 26,212 farms having 500 acres and over.

Of the 495,489 farms in the State in 1930, as reported in the census, 190,515 were operated by owners, 3,314 by managers, and 301,660 by tenants. The land in farms decreased from 114,020,621 acres in 1920 to 109,674,410 acres in 1925, but increased to 124,707,130 acres in 1930. The value of farm land and buildings decreased from $3,700,173,319 in 1920 to $3,045,970,798 in 1925, but increased to $3,597,406,986 in 1930. The value of farm implements and machinery in 1920 was $129,186,809 as compared with $141,899,122 in 1925 and $154,320,996 in 1930.

The total number of horses and colts on farms on April 1, 1930 was 769,042. The total, exclusive of colts born after January 1, 1930 was 748,702. Horses and colts on farms numbered 827,969 on January 1, 1925 and 991,362 on January 1, 1930.

The total number of mules and mule colts on farms on April 1, 1930 was 1,040,166. The total, exclusive of mule colts born after January 1, 1930, was 1,036,177. Mules and mule colts on farms numbered 1,010,339 on January 1, 1925 and 845,932 on January 1, 1930.

The total number of cattle on farms on April 1, 1930, was 6,602, ing the ship of state with a cargo of dangerous precedents that has upset her ballast and threatens to founder the craft.

Each time a law fails in its purpose or is flouted in its administration another law is passed.

When a vessel at sea is driven before a storm, wise and expert navigators reef the sails and throw overboard all excess cargo; they do not hoist a new and untried canvas.

How different with those who are at the helm of the ship of state!

In the midst of financial stress—if you want a case in point—they restrict the use the farmer may make of what is his own—by limiting the acreage he can plant in cotton—and they add to his tax burdens by increasing the state tax rate.

Such unwarranted governmental assault upon the individual's rights on the one hand and such wanton disregard for the rightful service the government owes the citizens on the other can have no other effect than to endanger the whole governmental structure.

Safety lies in ceasing to make experiments in new and unwarranted governmental functions; in discarding the many already fastened upon us, along with their expensive and complex machinery of administration; and in heading back to the safe and sure moorings of democracy as defined by the fathers of this nation for its guidance and perpetuation.

It is this—or Bolshevism.

Which?

As we think and act now so will we answer.

After the cry about unemployment—and there is enough to give us all concern—it comes as a strange cry that sufficient cotton pickers can not be found for many of the cotton fields of Texas.

703. The total, exclusive of calves born after January 1, 1930, was 5,583,472. Cattle on farms numbered 5,845,918 on January 1, 1925 and 6,156,715 on January 1, 1930.

The total number of swine on farms April 1, 1930, was 1,561,461. The total, exclusive of pigs born after January 1, 1930, was 1,048,074. Swine on farms numbered 1,166,253 on January 1, 1925 and 2,225,558 on January 1, 1930.

The total number of chickens over 3 months old on farms April 1, 1930 was 21,525,816. Chickens of all ages numbered 19,740,614 on January 1, 1925 and 18,062,744 on January 1, 1930.

Crops were harvested in Texas from 30,634,370 acres in 1929, as compared with 27,074,869 acres in 1924. The total for 1929 includes 4,076,206 acres of corn harvested for grain with a production of 66,251,026 bushels; 2,969,511 acres of wheat threshed with a production of 44,077,764 bushels; 1,148,110 acres of oats threshed with a production of 27,260,261 bushels; 16,813,568 acres of cotton harvested with a production of 3,739,392 bales; and 193,862 acres of barley threshed with a production of 3,743,677 bushels. In 1929 vegetables grown in the open for sale, with a value of $14,125,151, were harvested from 191,490 acres. The four most important vegetables were tomatoes, valued at $4,166,253, harvested from 28,528 acres; dry onions, valued at $2,454,997, harvested from 20,697 acres; watermelons, valued at $1,808,119, harvested from 56,737 acres; and cabbages, valued at $1,376,134, harvested from 20,155 acres.

A LEGISLATIVE JOKE.

Waving aside all question of moral and constitutional grounds for objection to the cotton acreage reduction legislation recently foisted upon the farmers of this state, a very brief consideration of it from a purely utilitarian standpoint should convince even the most sincere advocates of the law of its utter futility in so far as accomplishing a material reduction in cotton production in the state.

For instance, in Medina County, where this publication has the good fortune to be domiciled, the law as it stands permits of approximately a two-hundred per cent increase in cotton acreage.

With every product now produced on these splendidly diversified farms as badly hit as cotton by the depressed prices, it follows that our farmers are as anxious to turn to something else as are the all-cotton farmers to get away from cotton.

Hence, it follows that if the courts succumb, as did the legislature, to misguided clamor and sustain this misfit piece of legislation, when these farmers see seventy per cent of the acreage of the cotton country going into grain and feed crops—crops that are already at bankrupt prices—they will turn to the planting of all the cotton the law will allow with all the avidity of a hungry boy for an apple tart.

The result will be the planting of thousands of acres of land where cotton has been all but abandoned and of thousands of acres of new land where none had been grown before.

So sure are we of this that we shall not be surprised to see an increase both in acreage and yield of cotton over the state as a whole rather than a decrease in either as a consequence of the law.

Having worked off their steam in enacting this measure, a decent regard for common sense should now prompt the legislature to repeal it before they go home, and let their folly be as speedily forgotten as possible.

We note in the press where a Kansas farmer has invested the money he would normally spend in growing another crop in the purchase and storing of wheat from the present crop and will let his land rest for a year. This would be a wise business policy for any man whose land needs a rest and to whom the making of a crop means only the investment of cash for the sake of earning profits.

But unfortunately, to most land holders, making a crop means the investment not only of money but of the productive power of that land, combined with labor, in earning a living from the land before profits can be thought of. With the tenant farmer it is worse. He has only his labor, and, while highly skilled in cotton production, many in the South are untrained for any thing else but cotton-growing. Any legislation that deprives him of the chance to apply that skill and labor in the only way he knows how must take into consideration his situation and provide means of compensation for his loss or, while legislating him out of a job and the hoe out of his hands, you may legislate resentment into his heart and a bomb or a gun where he would rather keep his hoe. Would-be statesmen are playing with worse than fire in some of their ill-advised proposals.

SOMEWHERE.

By Emma Allen Bailey.

How like the stars at evening
As they gleam then shoot away
Is life, and all that's mortal here
When the spirit leaves the clay.

I do not know where heaven is
For the faithful and the true;
I know there's an eternity
Beyond the expansive blue!

And the remnant of our dust reposes
In its cold and narrow bed,
And the soul returns unto the Father
When the mortal man is 'dead'.

I do not know where heaven is,
Nor where the pearly gates—
I know that God is somewhere;
Somewhere He surely waits!

THE GOLDEN FLUTE.

By Mrs. Elizabeth Giles Winn.

A tender lay,
Upon a flute,
A youth did play;
Then all was mute.
"Alas," Cried she,
In agony
"My Golden Flute!"
"MY Golden Flute!"

Years swiftly passed,
Again she played;
Bright Hope was born,
That lovely morn,
Within at last;—
And to the maid
He sang once more,
He sang once more.

He sang of trees
And winding trails,
Of moonlight nights
And mystic lights,
Of draperies
And mossy dales.
"O, Golden Flute!"
"O, Golden Flute!"

No longer sad—
The maiden smiled.
My tale is told.
The flute of Gold
Plays good or bad,
Just like a child.
'Twill laugh and play.
'Twill laugh and play
When guided by
The hidden power.

The tunes we play
From day to day;
Or those we try
Each passing hour,
Reveal our thoughts;
Reveal our thoughts.

A tender tune
Upon life's flute
Master, each day,
O, let me play,
From morn till noon,—
Let it bear fruit.
"Dear Golden Flute!"
"Dear Golden Flute!"

THE CRUCIBLE.

A Play in Four Acts.

By Leon I. Leon.

This is a play in four acts, dealing with that vast, seething melting pot of humanity, The East Side of New York City. Mr. Leon's social service work for many years gives him a right to speak with authority upon the problems of life that call for intimate knowledge of both high and low, walks of life, in a close contact to be gained in no other way.

The characters of the play are men and women we all will recognize; the successful Dr. Franklin, a general practitioner of liberal ideas; his old-incentive to cooperate, the experts try to bolster it up by advising "Orderly marketing." To this slogan the government and the banks have readily agreed. They tell the farmers to give up the idea and contention of profits and they will loan them money to carry, protect and insure their produce so it can be sold orderly. This is simply one more business risk put upon the farmers without any assurance that it will come back to them, because the plan does not consider costs and denies farmers the right to even say when the produce shall be sold. When produce is sold to a buyer he is financed to hold it until he gets a profit or is ready to sell, just so long as the produce is good collateral for the loan. Why the difference? If the farmers market orderly without price determination, they will be met by orderly buying with the buying price made by the buyers as at present. The government has recently issued a statement showing that "Orderly marketing" has been of no material benefit to the price of cotton. It is a so-called business slogan that ignores fundamental business factors.

FIGHT ON.

(Dedicated to those in the Depression Dumps.)

By Fletcher Davis.

It's no use to fret and complain
If Fate has knocked you down;
Just get up and at it again,
Fight with never a frown.

For no matter how you are mauled
You ne'er are down and out,
No matter the rounds that are called,
Till you've taken the count.

So long as there's in you a fight,
There's hope it may be won;
But once you yield to greater might,
You are a long time done!

OUT OF THE MIRE.

By A. S. Draper.

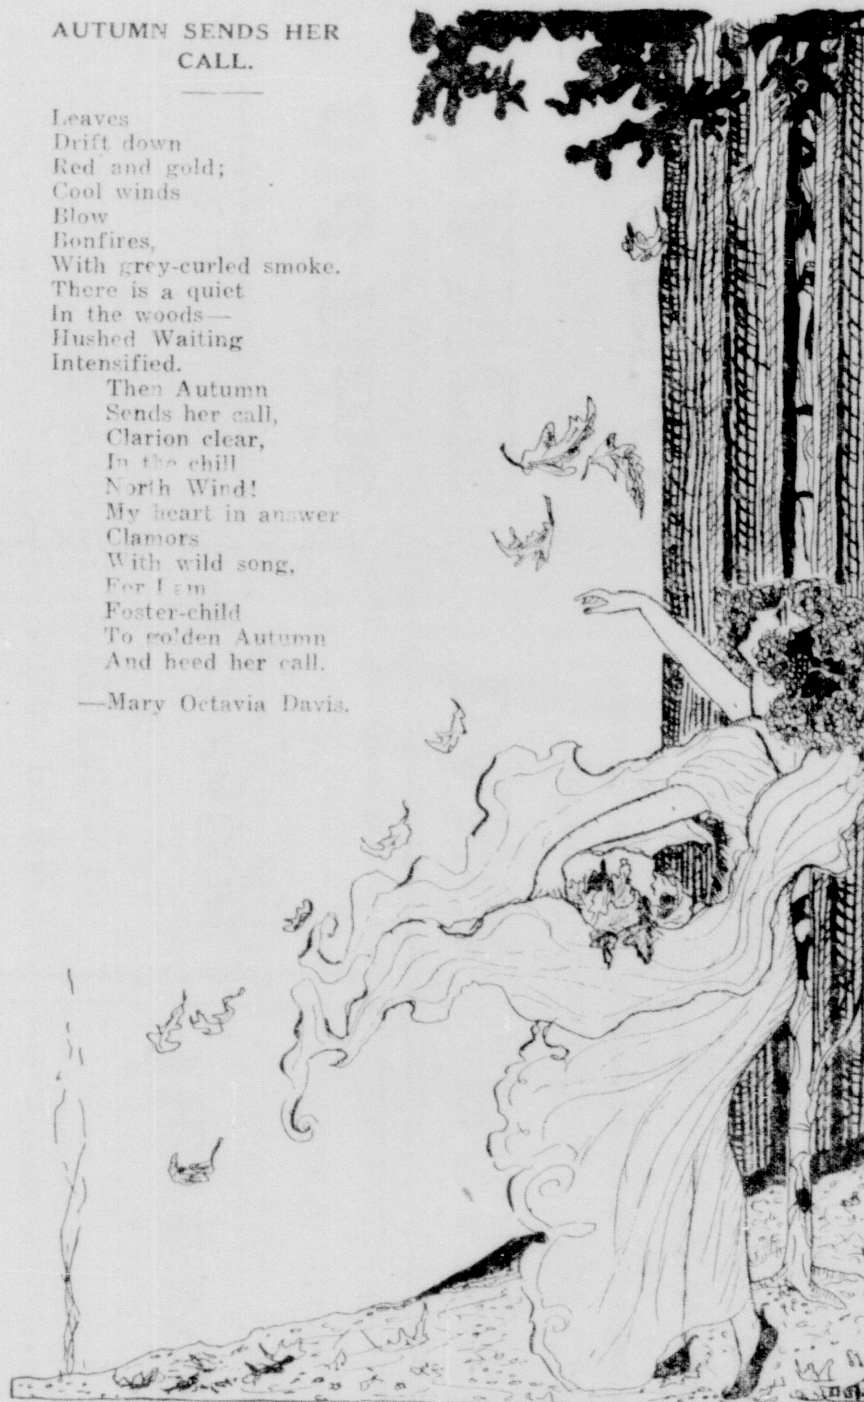

Let come what may,
The humble clay
Perhaps may hide,
Far down inside;
Deep out of sight,
A lily white.
We must not judge
By grime and smudge;
Souls grand and great
By unknown weight
Are often bound
In miry ground,
'Til light above
Will last remove
The filth and mire,
And then inspire
The little seeds
To other deeds.
Soon leaf and stem
Will sprout up then.
A drooping bud
With emerald hood
Bends lowly down
To earth so brown,
When night rains fall
And mists appall.
When morning comes
The humble ones
Are full in bloom,
With sweet perfume.

Of October tints,
And, with long needles of rain
Patches November's gray tent.

and of the strictly modern type; so it may be easily inferred that there is nothing slow about the "action" of this play! It is up to date to the moment, and breathes unexpected warmth and vitality in every situation. It is a play that will without question hold audiences more or less breathless, for Mr. Leon knows how to give his characters the advantage of reality, of a simplicity that appeals to every sort of mind. It is a play for today, and we firmly believe, a play that will also live beyond today, for it gives a true picture of today's social reality. Cloth, Price $1.50. ## YANCEY SCHOOL NEWS.

Profiting by criticism on school days at the Medina County Fair, Yancey schools won a first place and second places at the Winter Garden Fair. All prizes were won in competition with Pearsall Public Schools.

In a seven inning game of baseball played Friday afternoon, the Yancey team defeated the single men by a score of 16 to 5. The pitching of Stendebach and Tullock was too much for the single men, as a result of which some of the youngsters are about to decide to delve into matrimony.

This but a short time until basketball will be in full swing. Coach Roensch reports that he will turn the "Tears" loose real soon.

Sept. and Mrs. Stendebach and Prof. Roensch and family spent Saturday evening at the Winter Garden Fair. These "guest tickets" are great stuff.

The Yancey Future Farmers attended the Annual District Vocational Agriculture Judging Contest sponsored by the Winter Garden Fair at Pearsall, October 9, and took off their share of the honors.

The grain judging team, composed of Albert Wilson, Durward Littleton, C. Wiemers, tied with Cotulla for first place. Albert Wilson was named high point man in the grain contest.

The livestock team, composed of Earl Berry, Roland Saathoff and Lawrence Wilson, tied with Cotulla for first place. Earl Berry tied with the other contestants for high point with a perfect score.

The demonstration team, composed of Marvin Muennink, Leroy McCannan and Rubin Faseler, won second place. Yancey chose to put on a poultry (egg) culling demonstration and Marvin did a good job in putting on the demonstration. Dilley won.

In the poultry judging contest, Earl Faseler, Lloyd Rohmfalk and Marvin Muennink won fourth place. Dilley set won first.

Dilley placed first for total points of the contest, while Yancey and Cotulla tied for second.

As a result of the close race between the Yancey and Cotulla teams, the Yancey team gets the livestock cup, and the Cotulla team gets the cash prizes, each team gets $5.00 in prize money.

In addition to the contest, the Fair directors entertained the boys and their coaches with free admittance to the grounds and a square meal of barbecue.

Marvin Muennink, Reporter.

On Friday night, September 18, the Yancey Future Farmers of America Chapter, called a business meeting to organize for the coming year.

The officers elected were: Roland Saathoff, President; Henry Faseler, Vice President; Rubin Faseler, Secretary; Lawrence Wilson, Treasurer; Marvin Muennink, Reporter; T. H. Roensch, Advisor; Executive Committee, Earl Berry, Dueward Littleton and Albert Wilson.

The splendid work that last year's chapter did has induced encouragement for the largest membership the chapter has had and they have set the following objectives to be obtained:

1. Beautification of the school ground and repair playground equipment.
2. Build three clay tennis courts for school use.
3. Enter the Vocational Agricultural Judging Contest at the Winter Garden Fair, Oct. 7-10.
4. Have the annual summer outing and camping trip.
5. Sponsor a Parents and Son Banquet.
6. Sponsor a class terracing contest.
7. Enter the State Vocational Agriculture Judging Contest at A. & M. College.
8. Prune 400 stone fruit trees.
9. Have a monthly meeting the Friday of each month.
10. Enter the business meeting the first of each month and have their fathers come in and them in enjoying refreshments of cream and cake.

THE "BREAKING DOWN PROCESS."

Enactment of the prohibition law is a grant in this country that "any man can see it," said George L. Dry, mayor of Portland, Ore., New York City.

Enforcement is the most trying of municipal, state and federal duties," Mayor Baker said, "because people who are ordinarily good for general enforcement of all laws and are good Americans under any conditions, violate the prohibition laws and contribute to the breaking down of other laws. They are not their personal liberties are restricted."

The tendency to legislate on every subject of human liberty has augmented the "breaking down process" of the law by both young and old and rich and poor. Unnecessarily restrictive legislation always brings about a more likeable, wholesome character than the law which imposes a private citizen the right to possess small arms, are among the perennial samples of restrictive legislation that would make law-abiding citizens out of otherwise law-abiding citizens.

The nation must curb its tendency to legislate law for law-breaking in order to have more law-breaking in the future.

Words, though pertinent, unadvisedly appear; please the fancy who offend the ear.

—Garth.

COLONIAL COVERINGS.

The popularity of the "Western" or outdoor romance will not diminish—not as long as they are produced as well as "Shadow Ranch," the current Columbia all-talking feature with Buck Jones which holds the screen at the Colonial Theatre for Saturday. It would be difficult to imagine a more likeable, wholesome character than Sim Baldwin, the cowboy who quits his job and rides many hard miles at the call of a friend in need. Finding his friend murdered, Sim takes up the task his pal had left undone—fighting to save a girl's property from the conniving schemes of a scoundrel, thrilling the audience with a barrage of stunts, fights and amazing horsemanship. Buck Jones' Arabian stallion, Silver, is alone worth going miles to see. In the cast are Marguerite De La Motte, Kate Price, Frank Rice, and others.

The Colonial Theatre will show for Sunday and Monday an all-talking Columbia picture which is regarded

SPECIAL TRAINS TO BRING 50,000 TO SAN ANTONIO FOR W. O. W. AFFAIR

U. S. Senator Morris Sheppard, W. O. W. Treasurer, to Deliver Main Address

Special trains of Woodmen of the World members and their families from all sections of the United States and Mexico will bring more than 50,000 people to the formal dedication of the William Alexander Fraser Chapel and Bird Sanctuary, which will be held November 22 at San Antonio, Texas, according to W. A. Fraser, president of the Woodmen of the World with headquarters at Omaha, Nebraska.

Railroads have indicated that special rates will be offered from leading vicinities of the country.

The dedication program is to last three days. Leading speakers with national reputations have accepted invitations to make addresses during the program. The principal speaker on November 22 will be Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas who is treasurer of the Woodmen of the World. Senator Sheppard is the author of the 18th Amendment and a speaker of national reputation.

A mammoth barbecue with pork, beef, and mutton products from the farm of the Woodmen of the World Memorial Hospital will be served without cost to the Woodmen of the World Pilgrims attending the dedication.

"Leading Church Dignitaries from all faiths will take part in the program," said Mr. Fraser. "The Woodmen of the World Chapel is a universal church in which every denomination will be represented. Regardless of religion, everyone can hold services in the Chapel."

President Fraser has announced the plan to a half million members of the association by which they

as the prize screen capture of the season. This gripping romance, "The Criminal Code," is from Martin Flavin's smash Broadway hit which won the Theatre Club Trophy as the best play of the year. It is promised as a powerful love story with a new slant. It is essentially a romance for it is based upon the overpowering love of a youthful convict for the daughter of the warden of a prison. Walter Huston plays the leading role. Phillips Holmes is said to give a fine portrayal of a sensitive youth to prison conditions. Constance Cummings, who plays the feminine lead, makes a first appearance in motion pictures and is acclaimed a distinct "find". Many other prominent artists make up an excellent supporting cast.

A whirl of dancing, joy crazed, music loving girls taking their pleasure where they find it—in dance halls where partners may choose them for the exchange of a pasteboard ticket, worth the staggering sum of ten cents—that is the setting of "Ten Cents a Dance," featuring the charming Barbara Stanwyck at the Colonial Theatre, Thursday and Friday. The story of this Columbia picture, directed by Lionel Barrymore, presents the problem of a modern girl who has to decide between her husband and the man who saved him from jail. This Columbia picture was based upon the popular song, "Ten Cents a Dance."

CHEMICAL NATURE OF WOMEN INCOME REDUCING AGENT.

From The Owl.

The element called a woman is a member of the human family and has been assigned the chemical symbol W.O. It's accepted atomic weight of 120 although a number of isotopes have been identified having weights ranging from 95 to 400.

Occurrence: It is abundant in nature; both free and combined usually associated with man. That found in the U. S. is preferred.

Physical properties: A number of allotropic forms have been observed. Their density, transparency, hardness, color, boiling and freezing points, vary within wide limits. The color exhibited by many specimens is a surface phenomenon, and is usually due to a more or less closely adhering powder. It has been found that an unpolished specimen tends to turn green in the presence of a more highly polished specimen. The boiling point for some varieties is quite low while others are likely to freeze at any point. All varieties melt under proper treatment. The taste varies from sweet to bitter, depending upon treatment and environment.

Chemical Properties: Absorbs, without dissolving in, a number of liquids. Seemingly unlimited quantities of W.O. are highly magnetic. In general the magnetism varies inversely as to the density and size, directly with the square of the valence and inversely with the cube of the age. All varieties exhibit great affinity for Au, Ag, and for precious stones in both chain and ring structures. Many stable and unstable unions have been described, the latter in the daily press. Some varieties, being highly explosive, are exceedingly dangerous in inexperienced hands. In general,

Senator Morris Sheppard

may earn their way to the dedication through the performance of service to the Woodmen of the World. The Woodmen of the World expects in this way to pay the expenses of several thousand members.

The Bird Sanctuary was built following a study of the Bok Tower and Bird Sanctuary in Florida and other such structures in various parts of the world.

The Chapel has a patio with a beautiful fountain especially designed, according to Mr. Fraser. The exterior of the Chapel is of Indiana limestone and of a unique architectural design. Dark oak with large ceiling beams are used in the interior. The main stained-glass window of the Church is a production of Tiffany of New York.

Another window of the Chapel contains an art memorial dedicated to the States in which the Woodmen of the World does business. Special landscaping has helped to make the Chapel one of the most beautiful structures in all of Texas. Phelps and Dewees of San Antonio are the architects.

they tend to explode spontaneously when left alone temporarily by man.

Uses: Highly ornamental. Wide application in the arts and domestic science. Useful as a tonic on alienation of lovesickness and low spirits. Efficient as a cleaning agent, and probably the most powerful income reducing agent known.—Exchange.

AN "IF" FOR GIRLS.

If you can dress yourself attractive, Yet not make puffs and curls your chief delight;
If you can swim and row, be strong and active,
But of the gentler graces lose not sight,
If you can dance without a craze for dancing,
Play without giving play too strong a hold,
Enjoy the love of friends without romancing,
Care for the weak, the friendless and the old;
If you can master French and Greek and Latin,
And not acquire, as well, a priggish mien,
If you can feel the touch of silk and satin
Without despising calico and jean;
If you can ply a saw and use a hammer,
Can do a man's work when the need occurs,
Can sing when asked, without excuse or stammer,
Can rise above unfriendly snubs and slurs,
If you can make good bread as well as fudges,
Can sew with skill and have an eye for dust,
If you can be a friend and hold no grudges,
A girl whom all will love because they must;
If sometime you should meet and love another,
And make a home with faith and peace enshrined,
And you it's soul—a loyal wife and mother—
You'll work out pretty nearly to my mind.
The plan that's been developed through the ages,
And win the best that life can have in store.
You'll be, my girl, the model for the ages—
A woman whom the world will bow before.

GENIUS.

Is only the power of making continuous efforts. The line between failure and success is so fine that we scarcely know when we pass it—so fine that we are often on the line and do not know it.

How many a man has thrown up his hands at a time when a little more effort, a little more patience, would have achieved success. As the tide goes clear out, so it comes clear in.

In business, sometimes, prospects may seem darkest when really they are on the turn. A little more persistence, a little more effort, and what seemed hopeless failure may turn to glorious success.

There is no failure except in no longer trying. There is no defeat except from within, no really insurmountable barrier save our own inherent weakness of purpose.—Elbert Hubbard.

WATERMELON VARIETIES TESTED AT THE WINTER GARDEN EXPERIMENT STATION.

Results of one season's records on 39 seed samples of commercial watermelons indicate that the Favorite variety (often sold as Florida Favorite) may become an important commercial variety in the Winter Garden. Favorite gave a considerably higher yield than other varieties usually planted and produce melons of uniform size and high quality. It is about as early as Tom Watson and is a green oblong watermelon with darker green stripes, red flesh and white seeds. It is the leading variety for

Brandy's Singing Band

Playing their way from a small, midwestern college campus to Broadway's bright lights is the history of Brandy's Singing Orchestra scheduled to appear at Castroville on Sunday, October 18th.

Six years ago the nucleus of the present magnificent organization, under the leadership of Glen Brandenburg, was six piece collegiate unit from a small Ohio college town. They had, however, struck on a new note in dance entertainment. Mr. Brandenburg learned that appeal must be made to the eye as well as the ear. Along these lines he began to build his combination, augmenting to ten men, outfitting his unit in beautifully tailored flash costumes, and equipping them with the finest in gold instruments. His next step was to drill his band in novelty work of a higher order. Every man was required to study voice, and a glee club instructor gave them weekly rehearsal en ensemble, and trio singing work. Added to this a very high requirement was put on the musical ability of the members of the aggregation, and much work was done on weird and unusual instrumental effects.

Thus equipped, his merit was soon recognized and he was called from the college campus to Cleveland; thence to Pittsburgh ballroom; and later to a Boston hotel; and finally his name was flashing on Broadway at a world famous eating house near Fifty-first street.

The past year Brandy's orchestra has been the feature of the million dollar Eagles Ballroom at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where his tunes and antics pleased as high as five thousand amusement seekers in a single evening.

Dancers and music lovers can expect a real treat on Sunday, October 18th, with the appearance of this unusual aggregation, coming direct from the Gunter Hotel, San Antonio and a summer engagement through the East. Mr. Tragesser has not spared time or money in bringing this famous orchestra to the community at no advance in admission price.

CHILDREN NEED A HOT SCHOOL LUNCH.

By Zella Wigent, Agricultural Extension Department, International Harvester Company.

School children are at an age when the most important work of body building is being done. Every child deserves a chance to have the right food. That is the primary reason for providing a good school lunch.

A secondary reason for having a school lunch is that it gives the teacher a chance to help the child establish right food habits.

Too often at home, through mistaken kindness, a child is not discouraged when he decides he doesn't like some food which may be the very thing he especially needs.

A school lunch offers the opportunity to teach children how to select foods wisely. Girls get this instruction in a home economic course but many girls do not take home economics and the boys need this kind of instruction just as much as the girls. Through the medium of the school lunch this instruction can be given at any age when it will do the most good.

The children will like to make food posters and slogans such as "Balanced Meals Make Balanced Bodies," "We Need Three Kinds of Food Each Day," "Milk Helps Build Good Teeth." The securing of good illustrations for their posters and slogans is both interesting and educational. All this time, there is being built up a sentiment for good food habits which exerts a quiet but effective pressure on the child whose home training has been neglected.

The third reason for the hot lunch is the opportunity it gives for social training. It does away with the "biscuit-and-lasses-swallow-while-you-run" type of lunch. There must be order; the children sit at a table or their desks, and eat quietly. There is a splendid chance for training in table manners.

On most farms it is customary to serve the hearty meal at noon, so during the school months the children miss the principal noon meal. A hasty breakfast, a cold lunch, and a light supper from "left-overs" is not the best food program for a growing child.

Hot school lunches are especially needed during the cold months of the year. If they cannot be served throughout the school year, a special attempt should be made to serve them at least during the three winter months.

At least one hot dish should be served each day. This dish should be varied from day to day but special stress should be laid on milk and vegetable dishes as this insures each child's getting his share of the protective foods.

Co-operation between parents and the teacher will be necessary in order

OUR BRAVE PIONEERS.

Oh! What happiness fills our hearts today
To bestow honor in a most fitting way,
On pioneer settlers of dear Castroville,
Who faced this wilderness with an iron will.

Glowing future of Texas portrayed
Mr. Castro

To this husky group who were anxious to go,

So bidding adieu to their fatherland
They eagerly started to their promised land.

In summer of '44, their sea voyage ended,
Wearily the oxen train they now ascended.

Slowly but surely, over rough prairie road
To the banks of Medina, there to unload.

They scouted around for many a mile,
Then at last decided to stay here for awhile.

This quaint village so prettily located
Pleased them all, so it was never debated.

Under giant pecans, they assembled in prayer

With grateful hearts, desiring to share
Each others burdens, this pioneer race

Knew that many hardships they surely must face.

By guidance of pastor their little church was built
And at usual services 'twas always filled.

They never forgot to thank Our Heavenly Father
For bringing them to Texas, across the water.

The first pioneers settled in the year '44
And again in 1845 there came some more.

Some were French, some German and Alsatian.
No better people found in all creation.

Many a night they spent in terror and fright,
Those hateful Indians were an unwelcome sight.

The pale face's scalp they were eager to get,
Many a pioneer this awful fate met.

The Civil War brought them a lot of heartache,
These four years were followed by Cholera Plague.

And so things happened right down

the line,
Still Castroville stands, and is doing fine.

Proudly we unveil this monument grand

Offering loud cheers, while united we stand

For the old settlers, that made their home here

Succeeding so well, in pioneer career.

By a Daughter of Castroville,
MRS. J. L. MECHLER.

The wedding of Miss Loretta Koch of D'Hanis, daughter of Mrs. John Koch, and William Albert Nehr, son of Mrs. Chas. Nehr of D'Hanis, was solemnized Monday morning in the Holy Cross Church at D'Hanis.

The church was effectively decorated with ferns and baskets of regina corona. Miss Lucy Rothe played the wedding march from Lohengrin.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, E. H. Koch of Houston, was lovely in a travel suit of paddock green diagonal wool and a green Empress Eugenie hat and veil with accessories to match. She wore a corsage of Sweetheart roses and lilies of
